$20.1 billion was spent by governments on aged care services in 2018–19

Two thirds (66%) of government spending on aged care was on residential aged care

2.2 times as much is spent on residential aged care than home care and support (per older Australian)

The Australian Capital Territory had the highest rate of government spending for home care and support (per older Australian)

Government spending increased by 27% over the last 5 years